A Message From the President

This November meeting will be my last ...

I am very grateful for the acquaintances I have made with lovely creative spirits. I know it was important for me to serve as your president; it has been my pleasure.

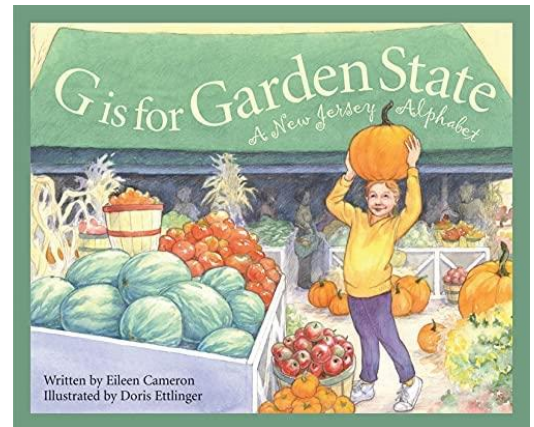

At our next meeting, we will discuss our Christmas party (at which I hope to see some familiar faces I have missed) and the Christmas hanging at the Somerset County Library. We also may have supplies from Alka Dalal...

Does anyone remember how long I have served (not to mention how many successful New York City Metropolitan Museum trips--which I also loved)?

Doris Ettlinger will be our demonstrator at the Thursday, Nov. 17 meeting, at the Warren Township Library, 6-7:45pm.

Doris is an amazing watercolorist and illustrator. She also teaches classes in her home studio, a converted gristmill. Find out more here: <https://www.dorissettlinger.com/>

A little short notice, but Doris and her husband, Michael McFadden, are hosting an Open Studio this Saturday and Sunday (Nov. 12 & 13). Details and RSVP on Doris' Instagram page: <https://www.instagram.com/dorissettlingerstudio/>

October Meeting Recap

Donna Souren, our demo artist for October, shared her process for painting feathers. She starts with a simple pencil sketch and uses gouache to build up layers of color.

Coming Up in December...

The RVAA Member Show and Sale at the Bridgewater Library will be here soon!

There's plenty of room to show your work on the gallery wall or in the showcases. Please contact Peggye Tombro with the number of items and their dimensions.
